

Figure 2.

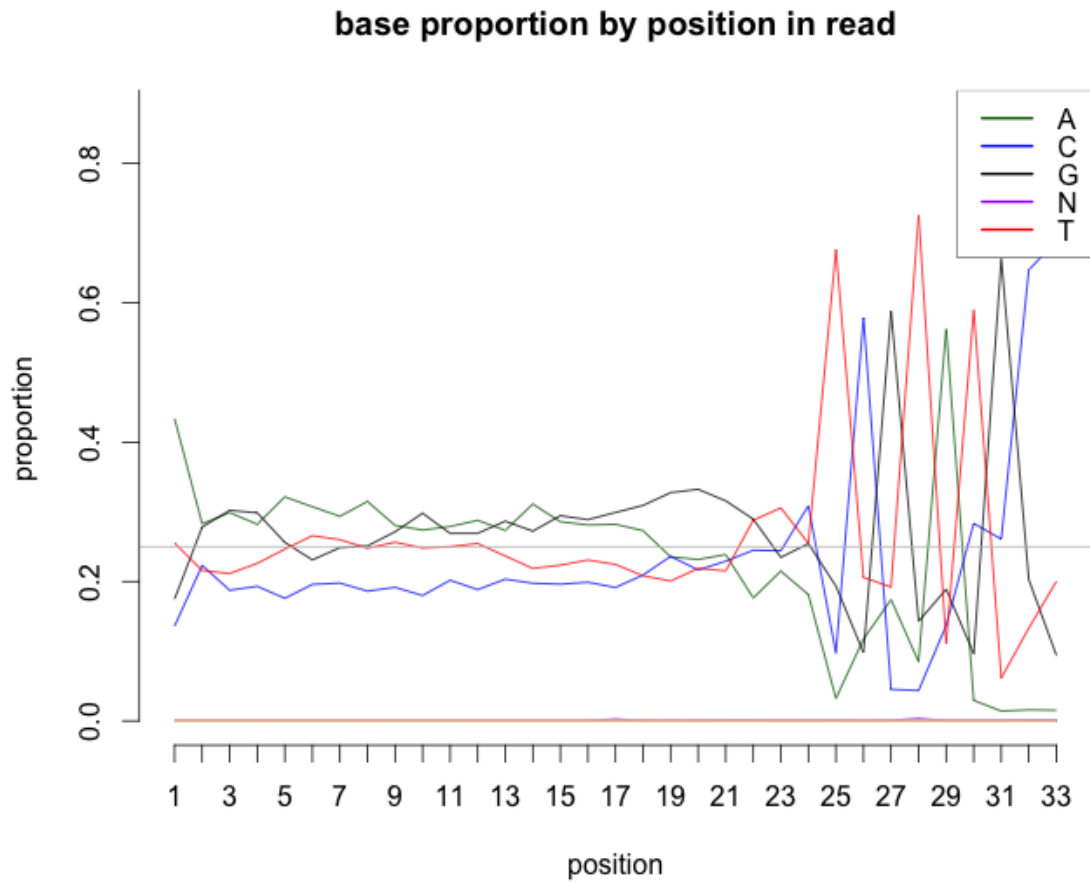

Figure 2. Per base sequence content. Ideally, there should be an even distribution of the four bases, which should not change with base position. The position looked at should not influence the base case call. This would be indicated with all lines being parallel. The spike positions indicate bias. Again, these are appearing at positions near 26.